

A NEW JOURNAL.

Dr. Martin Cooley of Savannah, Ga., has started a new journal under the title of "The Georgia Practician." It is well gotten up, printed in a business-like way and the editorials are refreshingly above the average. Dr. Cooley expresses himself remarkably well, and we are very glad indeed to see that he objects to the frightful mishandling of good English so common in medical talking and writing. In regard to the policy of the Journal, he says:

"Our advertising shall be strictly ethical, and absolutely confined to our advertising pages. No advertiser will buy his way into our reading-matter pages. The profession is being educated to this disgraceful and too prevalent practice, and are properly casting out these subsidized sheets; and the time is not far distant when the advertisers who practice these methods will see their folly as evidenced in the alienation of the patronage of the intelligent, and therefore the largest practitioners of the country."

We sincerely hope that "The Georgia Practician" will stick to a policy of strictly ethical advertising, and we also sincerely trust that the definition of "ethical" will not be reconstructed by the editorial management of The Practician.
